We protested outside the CEO of Cigna's Mansion.

David Cordani, the CEO of Cigna, has led the charge to block The Public Options Bill (SB 842). We went over to his house on Monday, April 26 to let him know how his greed impacts Connecticut residents.

You can read about the protest here.

Let's Tell Governor Lamont:
Connecticut Needs a Recovery for All!

TOMORROW: Join us and Recovery For All to tell Governor Lamont that CT needs Recovery For All!

May 1st at noon, join us in front of the Governor's Mansion, 990 Prospect Ave, Hartford. A true economic recovery from the COVID-19 crisis requires a budget that invests in our communities, repairs the broken tax structure, and lays the foundation for a truly equitable Connecticut. RSVP here.

How does the US health care system compare to other countries? It's pretty embarrassing.

The New York Times asked people from around the world to react to real stories from the US health care system. They were appalled to see how American health care squeezes innocent patients for money, and forces people to crowdfund or go without when it comes to treatments. You can watch the eye opening video here.

What's Biden doing about health care?

During President Joe Biden's speech to Congress on Wednesday, he called for an ambitious health agenda that would allow the federal government to negotiate prescription drug prices, expand Medicare coverage, build on the Affordable Care Act and lower deductibles. All of these ideas would transform the way Americans pay for health care—but most of them are not actually in the legislative plan the President has put forward. Read the full article here.

As always, tell us what you'd like to hear more about so you can see the latest on all the issues you care about.
